PFC. RACHEL K. PORTER

The most recent training operation being conducted aboard the Marine Corps Air Ground Combat Center is integrated training exercise 2-18, and the Marines of the Air Combat Element are a testament to the exercise’s ability to transform junior Marines into leaders.

Marine Wing Communication Squadron 38 is attending in support of Marine Wing Support Squadron 371, providing services that range from keeping internet up and running, to digging trenches for power lines.

“We are the digital backbone for the tactical network,” said Staff Sgt. Nathan Rohl, site staff non-commissioned officer in charge, MWCS-38, Alpha Detachment.

As one of the first units to set up during ITX, MWCS 38 focuses on monitoring equipment at all hours, job proficiency and leadership traits. Cpl. Benjamin J. Skunk Gets Gassed At Staff NCO Club

EDITED BY SSGT J.A.
HOLSOMBACK

It was a real gas at the Las Pulgas Enlisted Men's Club after the Base Pest Control Unit slugged it out nose-to-nose with a skunk that strayed and sprayed.

When GySgt D.C. Copeland, Club NCOIC, sat down to work Tuesday morning, he noticed a new addition to the files in his desk... listed under "S". Before the Gunny could act, the little critter made its escape through a hole in the wall.

Wednesday, GySgt Copeland again entered his office to begin the day's work and found the same desk drawer open. He immediately diagnosed the problem. There it was in black and white. The only skunk presently on file in the Marine Corps. This time, however, the Gunny was a little too fast for the pungent Polecat and trapped him in the drawer before calling Base Pest Control for reinforcements.

Arriving on the scene prepared to handle the dissection, the Pest Control Unit immediately set about eliminating the varmint. The exterminators pulled a trick out of the skunk's own bag and gassed him.

GySgt Copeland is once again the sole and uncontested owner of his desk. The skunk is gone, but his memory lingers on... and on.

WHAT I'VE LEARNED

Trevor

Long Island, NY

Pfc. Trevor Rowett, Combat Videographer, 3rd Marine Regiment

ROWETT

PFC. TREVOR ROWETT IS A COMBAT VIDEOGRAPHER WITH 3RD MARINE REGIMENT, AND IS AN ONLY CHILD. HIS GREATEST INSPIRATIONS IN THE MARINE CORPS WERE HIS FIRST NCOs, AND GOT HIS COMPETITIVE PERSONALITY FROM PLAYING SPORTS GROWING UP.

> I didn't know that I was going the join the Marine Corps until the end of high school. I joined because it's the hardest branch, it has the highest standards—I've always been competitive because I played sports when I was younger which instilled that drive in me.

> I'm an only child—I didn't grow up in the richest family, but it was nice to be the center of attention. I wouldn't have changed it, and I don't think my parents would have changed it either.

> The stress that the Marine Corps has given me has made me stronger and more adept to handle more in the future, whether I reenlist or go into the civilian world.

> Dealing with challenging situations on the spot has made me more capable than before I joined the Corps. I'm not sure what I would want to do if I went back into the civilian world, though.

> I joined to be in the infantry, but when they switched my contract I was pretty lucky with what they gave me. Recently I heard about a reconnaissance indoctrination that I could possibly jump on, but if I don't then I wouldn't mind staying in this field. I don't necessarily have a passion for it, but it's a good skillset to take with me.

> My favorite part of videography is after all the work of editing and shooting, having a final product for people to look at to critique or praise.

> I know it's cheesy, but I look up to a lot of the NCOs that I had when I first came in. I took into consideration their ways and the traits that made them the inspiration to me as they were, but then I also decided that I needed to take my own route. They definitely never caved under pressure; they knew exactly how to react to a variety of situations and had a steadfast attitude. That is something that I will take with me through my career, in or out of the Marine Corps. I understand, too, that paving my own path comes with time and experience, I won't let my mistakes inhibit me from reaching my full potential, and reaching a potential beyond what my NCOs initially inspired me to be.

> I love that I'm in a division unit and that I get to go on field operations as often as I do—they provide a lot of character-building experiences because of all the stress and hardship that they provide, and its something that not a lot of other people in the Marine Corps get to experience, and no one's experience is as diverse in terms of the different situations and procedures I witness while working. I think that you have to go through something tough to have modesty about it.

Subaru salutes your service.

Subaru supports you on and off the road with the Subaru Military Incentive Program, a vehicle discount program for active-duty military personnel. Ask your retailer about saving $1,300–$3,300 off the Manufacturer’s Suggested Retail Price (MSRP)*, depending on model and accessories.

Subaru is a registered trademark. Vehicle shown with available accessories. *MSRP does not include tax, title, and registration fees. Limited time offer subject to change without notice. Valid in the U.S. only, except Hawaii. Terms and conditions apply. Prior sales excluded. Certain models may be excluded. May not be combined with all Subaru incentives. Contact your local participating Subaru retailer or VIP Program Headquarters at vip.program@subaru.com or 1-800-VIP-0933 for further assistance.
