

SEXUAL ASSAULT PREVENTION POLICY

Sexual assault is a crime, and will not be tolerated. As Marines, our Core Values – Honor, Courage, and Commitment – are the foundation for all that we stand for, and guide how we conduct ourselves at all times. Sexual assault is directly counter to our values and serves to erode the good order and discipline that are the hallmarks of our Corps.

Every member of MAGTFTC, and everyone aboard the Combat Center, is responsible for creating an environment in which all Marines, Sailors, and civilians are treated with honor and dignity at all times and in all settings. Statistics indicate that the majority of sexual assaults within our Corps do not involve outsiders. Rather, it is often times Marines attacking other Marines. Equally disturbing is the fact that bystanders – in many cases a fellow Marine or group of Marines – have witnessed the life-changing crimes and done nothing to prevent the assault.

Sexual assault prevention takes many forms, beginning with the continued education of all hands, and the steadfast attention of commanders and leaders at every level. Equally important, Marines must demonstrate the moral courage to intervene when their instincts tell them that a situation is deteriorating and the potential for a sexual assault emerges. Far too often, alcohol is the common denominator that fuels the rise of such dangerous and potentially criminal situations. Alcohol is not an excuse for violating our clear standards of behavior, or for committing a crime.

Every victim of sexual assault must have absolute confidence in our unwavering commitment to ensure that he or she will be treated with dignity, sensitivity, and respect and receive the appropriate medical, emotional, psychological, and spiritual assistance required. Victims who choose to report an assault as an unrestricted report must have confidence that their identity will be released only to those with a need to know. Those victims who make a restricted report will have their privacy honored to the fullest extent possible, while being provided the appropriate requested care.

Commanders will be familiar with the contents of MCO 1752.5B, “Sexual Assault Prevention and Response” and ensure that all commands throughout MAGTFTC and the Combat Center are focusing their fullest energies on preventing sexual assault through fundamental leadership. When sexual assaults occur, commanders must utilize the full resources available, from Uniformed Victim Advocates and the Combat Center Sexual Assault Response Coordinator, to our command Chaplains and appropriate medical personnel – to respond to the needs of both military and civilian victims.

I want every member of MAGTFTC and everyone aboard the Combat Center to know of my personal resolve to eliminate sexual assault. Leaders at all levels will cover and align on sexual assault prevention to eliminate the environment permissive of this affront to our Corps Values.
